myCIO Wealth Partners LLC, Philadelphia, today announced that it has reached agreement with the former Philadelphia-based Investment Advisory Group of PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) for the sale of the practice which will now operate under the myCIO name. The combined firm will be one of the largest Independent Investment Consulting firms in the country.

PwC's Investment Advisory Group was led by partner Paul Bracaglia and provided services to more than $1.6 billion dollars of investment assets. Paul also served as PwC's Chief Compliance Officer for the Investment Advisory group. The Philadelphia based practice was the largest of the PwC's Investment Advisory Practice and has a specialty in providing investment advisory services to defined benefit and defined contribution plans and high net worth individuals.

Paul Bracaglia comments, "We reviewed many potential alternatives and we could not be happier with this outcome. It is very difficult in this industry to find like minded professionals who share the core principle of providing truly objective, independent advice and we are excited about the opportunities this partnership with myCIO presents for our clients in the future."

Senior Partner, David Lees comments, "We have known Paul for years and his reputation in the marketplace for providing high quality objective advice is exemplary. We are very excited to welcome Paul and his team to myCIO and could not be more excited that he chose to partner with myCIO as we continue to grow as an organization."

Partner Jim Biles adds, "Paul and his team will be an outstanding addition to myCIO and his group's expertise in providing consulting for defined contribution and defined benefit retirement plans complements our existing service offerings nicely."

myCIO serves as the Chief Investment Officer (CIO) for many of its clients and will now provide Financial Counseling services to 40 Former and Current Chairman, CEOs and Presidents of Standard & Poors and Fortune 500 companies (up from 28). myCIO provides financial consulting services to over $5.9 billion dollars of investment assets for Individuals, Families, Endowments, Pensions, and Trusts (up from $4.3 billion).
